Re: Upcoming Winslow High School Project

Dear Mr. Haley,

I was recently contacted by Dan Wildes of Sheridan asking me to provide a letter of recommendation for Sheridan as they compete to become your Construction Manager.

Thomas College has partnered with Sheridan on many construction projects over the years, and Sheridan has been a great team member in Thomas College's growth over the past two decades. As our Construction Manager at Risk, Sheridan has successfully provided accurate and honest pricing, and advice, during the pre-construction phase of the project. Sheridan's open lines of communication, willingness to meet, and provide advice to the architects and Owners has proven that their pre-construction services are productive and valuable.

Sheridan's ability to manage a construction project on an active campus, even within a fully occupied building, has been one of the primary reasons they have performed most of our construction projects. Whether its coordination for parking, on site storage, dust control, or student circulation, Sheridan's ability to adapt and satisfy many affected parties is exceptional. Sheridan's commitment to safety, schedule, quality and common sense is consistent job after job.

I certainly recommend Sheridan for your impending building addition and renovation project. Good luck with your upcoming project and feel free to call me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
