Dear Dan,

I feel it is only appropriate to write you a letter to express my deep admiration to you and the workers at your company who did such a wonderful job at Freeport High School. Throughout our project your people were always professional and courteous to our staff and students. To work on a building with over 500 people working and learning everyday without so much as a complaint is truly a remarkable feat.

As the owner's representative for this project and as a Facilities Director here at RSU 5, I know the importance of keeping a job site orderly. I was pleased to see that your company took extra care in this area as well. Your safety department was present and your workers were obviously well trained in this area. As an observer it was clear to me that every worker knew the expectations for safety.

I think back to the beginning of this job when equipment and materials began showing up and it is remarkable that these materials never interfered with the day to day business of "teaching kids." Materials were stored neatly out of the way of students, staff and the public and protected from the weather at all times. When materials were required to be moved, they were moved with planning and care so as not to hinder bus or staff traffic.

This addition and renovation was my first experience as an owner's rep. To do a job like this for the first time can be daunting. Yourself, Scott Quint, and your Superintendents Jim Nicholas and Scott Amos along with the workers on staff are clearly the best in the business. I have to say that any questions asked by either me or the staff and students at the school were taken seriously. I also know that if asked to be an owner's representative for another project that task would be easier due to all I have learned from Sheridan. Your company's level of respect for their customers comes from having a well trained experienced staff, something that is clearly instilled in all of your workers from the top down.

My experience throughout this project has been positive due to the experienced personnel at The Sheridan Corporation. I would gladly recommend Sheridan to anyone interested in any building project. Please feel free to share this letter with other customers who may be considering using your company, and feel free to give them my phone number if they wish to speak to me directly.

Sincerely,
