The Kittery Water District looked to Sheridan Construction when it came time to upgrade their office facility in Kittery, Maine.

This Design-Build project, spearheaded by the Sheridan design team saw multiple unique designs before being finalized. Sheridan's team constructed a new Water District facility, which features low maintenance materials.

The final design of this well insulated facility included a new inviting facade, office space, as well as new space to treat the water of Kittery.

Building on our promise.
