Nappi Distributors selected The Sheridan Corporation to construct their new state-of-the-art distribution warehouse.

Located in Gorham, Maine, this 144,000-square-foot project is designed to house beer and wine in a temperature-controlled environment, while also creating a more efficient loading dock for incoming and outgoing products.

Additionally, the installation of modernized technologies were designed into the facility. Additional features include a mezzanine wine picking system, as well as a new keg storage cooler which ensures the delivery of ice cold products.

Building on our promise.
